The best part of rural communities is the opportunity to be involved in a broad range of activities – sport, arts and community connection. As we can see in this edition, there is plenty of friendly rivalry between our netball and hockey clubs. It's wonderful to see the social side of sport remains such a fun and important part of community life.

Community connection takes many forms, and this week we had the privilege of welcoming two new Australians to our community during a citizenship ceremony held at the Shire of Kulin. Citizenship ceremonies are always emotional and memorable occasions, providing an opportunity to reflect on the significance of becoming an Australian citizen. It is a privilege to be part of the process and to witness the pride and excitement of those making their pledge of commitment to Australia.

The ceremony marked an important milestone in the lives of our newest citizens as they formally joined the Australian family, embracing the rights, responsibilities and opportunities that come with citizenship. We congratulate them and extend a warm welcome as they begin this new chapter as valued members of our community.

For those with a creative spark, we also have a fantastic opportunity for you to get involved in. Stories by the Fire is a project inviting people to write poetry and stories that capture their experiences, memories and connections to Kulin and the Wheatbelt.

One of the most exciting aspects of this project is not only the collection of these wonderful stories, but also the final event – a live reading where community members can share their work and celebrate local creativity. We hope to create an opportunity for connection and inspiration, allowing the community to hear these stories and be captivated by the talents of our local writers.

The submission deadline has been extended to 25 September 2026, giving everyone a little more time to put pen to paper. Further information can be found in this edition, and we strongly encourage you to get involved. Whether you're an experienced writer or simply have a story to tell, every voice is welcome.

If you're unsure whether your story idea is suitable, or you would like some guidance on how to get started, please drop in and have a chat with the CRC team. We are more than happy to provide advice, help shape your ideas, and offer encouragement along the way. If you need a little assistance, we are here to lend a hand. Any level, any inspiration, any way you would like to express yourself – we would love to hear from you.

There are so many ways to be part of community life. Whether you're cheering from the sidelines, putting pen to paper or welcoming a new neighbour, every contribution helps strengthen the fabric of our community. Thank you to everyone who helps make Kulin a welcoming and vibrant place to call home.

WELL DONE LADS! YOU MAKE THE EDFL PROUD!

Worried about a mate? 6 Ways You Can Help.

Talk to a mate

Check in on a mate or someone you care about if they're not going so well. A phone call or invitation to catch up can have a positive impact on their lives and your own.

Talking and listening are powerful

You don't need to be an expert to talk to someone who isn't going so well. Simply letting someone know you care can make a difference to how they are feeling.

Reach out if things get too rough

It's important to seek help and support when we're struggling with difficult emotions.

Mental health challenges can affect anyone

Reducing stigma around mental health helps people to feel supported, be kind to yourself and others.

Engage in relaxation

Relaxation can help to reduce stress, improve mood, and promote overall wellbeing.

Maintain connection with something you love

Engaging in activities we enjoy can help us to cope with stress and challenges.

How to check in on someone

Helping others and providing support can make a difference for someone who is having problems and going through a tough time. If you think someone you care about isn't going so well, try the following tips on how to support them and continue to check in on them.

Talk

For most people, just asking if they are okay and listening can make a difference.

By simply being there for someone, they can feel less alone and more supported to open up and talk about how they are really feeling.

Asking open ended questions that require a response is a good way to start the conversation.

FOR EXAMPLE:

- How are you going? What's been happening in your life lately?
- You don't seem quite yourself lately, is something bothering you?
- You seem upset or worried, what's going on? Can I help with something?
- I've noticed you're not going out much lately, anything going on?

Do an activity together

Activities create conversation. Find an opportunity during everyday life activities to start the conversation and ask them how they are really feeling. Try doing activities together such as:

GOING FOR A WALK

GOING TO AN EVENT TOGETHER

GOING FOR A COFFEE OR A MEAL

Listen

Just being there for someone and offering a listening ear can make a difference.

1. Show them that you care and are here to listen to them.
2. Have patience, let others talk and don't judge.
3. Be reflective by repeating what they have said.
4. Keep calm and accept that they may disagree with you.

KICKING THE FOOTY, PLAYING A GAME, SURFING ETC

GOING FOR A DRIVE

ANYTHING THAT ENCOURAGES OR PROVIDES AN OPPORTUNITY TO HAVE A CHAT

Provide support

If the person you're concerned about is in a life threatening situation, or is at risk of harm to themselves or others, call 000.

Getting help early can make a difference. A good place to start is:

- Talk to your GP or someone you trust.
- Call a support line.
- Contact a support service.
- Try the Think Mental Health check-up tool.

They may also need your support while they look for professional help.

INVESTING IN OUR COMMUNITY

The Kulin Bush Races Committee met earlier this month, and planning for the 2026 event is well underway.

The biggest topic on the agenda was our annual Community Funding Round. We're always blown away by the number of great projects happening around town, and this year was no exception. Applications were received from Cultivating Kulin Committee, Kulin District High School, KK Vipers Hockey Club, Kulin Tennis Club, the Kulin Medical Centre and the Kulin Child Care Centre, with Kulin Arts also set to submit an application once they can secure the builder quotes they need.

Altogether, more than $136,000 was requested through this year's round. The Committee was pleased to support all applications received and we're looking forward to seeing these projects take shape over the coming months.

One of the things we're most proud of as a committee is being able to put Bush Races profits back into the community. Every ticket purchased, sponsor secured and volunteer shift completed helps make projects like these possible, and it's great to see the benefits spread right across Kulin.

As volunteers, we all know the Bush Races is about much more than one weekend in October.

The countless hours spent planning, fundraising, setting up and packing down throughout the year all contribute to something much bigger. The result is not only a successful event, but profits reinvested back into local projects, facilities and organisations that make Kulin a better place to live, work and visit.

Planning for the 2026 Bush Races is ramping up. The Committee has adopted the operational budget for the year and work has started on locking in entertainment, sponsors and the many moving parts that go into delivering the event each October.

We were also pleased to welcome Quin Dungey onto the Committee. It's great to see new people getting involved and bringing fresh ideas to the table. Like many community organisations, the Bush Races relies on volunteers willing to contribute their time and skills, and new committee members help ensure the event continues to evolve and remain relevant for future generations.

The Committee also spent some time discussing future improvements to the Bush Races facilities and grounds, along with opportunities to make greater use of the venue. This includes interest from external event organisers looking to hire the grounds outside of the Bush Races weekend.

As we continue planning for the future, the Committee remains mindful of balancing investment in Bush Races infrastructure with the ongoing ability to support community projects through our funding program. Both are important, and both contribute to the long-term strength of Kulin.

As always, thank you to everyone who supports the Kulin Bush Races. Whether you're a volunteer, sponsor, or ticket holder, you're helping us create an event that continues to give back to our community.

SPILLING THE TEA...

Served with Scones, jam & community spirit

The Kulin CWA had the pleasure of hosting Kings Park Fashions in Kulin last week, enjoying a wonderful morning of fashion, friendship and fun at the Kulin Memorial Hall.

A fabulous crowd of more than 25 people attended the event, including members of the Kulin Quilters, who joined in the festivities. Local models showcased a striking range of outfits with plenty of flair, confidence and personality, helping to bring the collection to life.

Of course, no CWA gathering would be complete without a delicious morning tea. Guests enjoyed freshly baked scones with jam and cream, along with a tempting selection of other homemade treats.

Once the fashion parade concluded, the shopping began in earnest, with many attendees taking home at least one new addition to their wardrobe—and quite a few leaving with more than that!

A special thank you goes to our local models, Dani, Fiona, Corrie and Edwina. You all looked wonderful and we greatly appreciate your assistance in making the day such a success.

Accidental Counsellor Workshop

The Accidental Counsellor Workshop is a practical training program designed to equip individuals who find themselves supporting individuals in distress. The workshop teaches participants how to recognise when someone is in distress, respond with empathy and confidence, and refer them to appropriate professional support. Through interactive discussions, participants develop the ability to remain calm, listen effectively, and provide immediate, compassionate assistance - without taking on the role of a professional counsellor.

Kulin Child Care Centre

Recently we explored World Environment Day & World Ocean Day, both days are noted in the first weeks of June. Together they highlight important actions we as humans can do to care for our world and importantly make change now for the generations of the future. Educators and children have important and active roles to play in creating and promoting sustainable communities. EYLF V2.

You will note our beautiful ocean inspired painting to the left, to the right our loose parts recycled material craft. These activities are supported by conversations and ideas from our Educators who help our young people learn about different ways they can care for their world.

We recently received our Pirate Ship, Mud Kitchen and Market Stall play equipment from Learn by Nature. This play equipment has been made possible through the PRA Grant which we successfully secured during the Round 3 release in December 2025. This grant provides funding to help ECEC settings facilitate children's early learning, support development, and ensure a smooth transition to school.

We have and are using the funding for the below areas of development in our centre

- Gross motor and core strength
- Problem solving and play based learning
- Embedding Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Perspectives and culture
- Accredited training for staff (TAFE), to support children's learning and observations
- Regulation support and learning through Educator learning

Thank you to our families and community for supporting us.

A LITTLE SPICE FOR A CHILLY WHEATBELT WINTER

It's chilly now in Kulin. There are just no two ways about it.

The mornings are crisp, the evenings arrive early and there seems to be a permanent competition between the kettle and the heater to see which one gets switched on first.

But winter in Kulin is also kind of lovely.

The pace slows down a little. The streets are quieter, even by Kulin standards. Yet the heartbeat of our little town hasn't missed a beat. People still queue up at Foodworks, stop by the Post Office and spend an extra few minutes having a chat. Neighbours still wave. Friends still stop for a yarn. Life carries on, just wrapped in an extra jumper.

And at the end of the day, families head home looking for something warm and comforting to fill hungry bellies.

I think we all have those meals that live on permanent winter rotation. The trusty soups. The casseroles. The slow-cooked favourites that make regular appearances from June through to September.

I know I do.

But every now and then I get the hankering for something a little different. Something that still delivers all that winter comfort but wakes up the tastebuds at the same time. A meal that feels just a little bit special without requiring a culinary degree or half a day in the kitchen.

That's where these recipes come in.

This month we're taking a little flavour journey to the Middle East with two dishes that have firmly earned their place in my handwritten recipe book.

Now, I can't claim either recipe as entirely my own. The Slow Cooked Lamb Shawarma comes from the wonderfully talented Nagi Maehashi at Recipe Tin Eats, while the Jewel Couscous evolved from a combination of ideas Mum and I played with together over the years.

What I can tell you is that I've made these recipes many times. They've been tested on family, friends and hungry visitors around my table, and they never last long. The lamb is tender, fragrant and packed with warming spices. The couscous is bright, colourful and full of little pops of sweetness and texture that make every mouthful interesting.

Together they're one of those meals that feels a little bit impressive while actually being surprisingly simple.

So, from my table to yours, I hope these recipes bring a little warmth to your winter and perhaps inspire you to try something just a little different.

After all, there is always a place at the table.

SLOW COOKED LAMB SHAWARMA

Serves 6

INGREDIENTS

Lamb

- 2kg lamb shoulder (bone in) or 1.7kg butterflied lamb leg

Shawarma Paste

- 3 garlic cloves, minced
- 1 tbsp ground coriander
- 1 tbsp ground cumin
- 1 tbsp ground cardamom
- 1 tsp cayenne pepper (or 1/2 tsp for a milder version)
- 2 tsp smoked paprika
- 1 1/2 tsp salt
- 1/2 tsp black pepper
- 1/4 cup extra virgin olive oil
- 2–3 tbsp lemon juice

Cooking

- 2 cups water

METHOD

1. Preheat oven to 180°C (160°C fan-forced).
2. Combine all shawarma paste ingredients in a bowl, starting with 2 tablespoons of lemon juice. Mix until a wet paste forms.
3. Place lamb into a roasting pan and coat generously with the paste.
4. Position the lamb fat-side up. Pour water around the lamb and cover tightly with foil.
5. Roast for 3 hours, basting once or twice during cooking.

6. Remove foil. The meat should now be very tender.
7. Baste again and return to the oven uncovered for 30 minutes to develop a rich golden crust.
8. Remove from oven and reserve the pan juices.

OPTIONAL BBQ FINISH

For an extra authentic finish, allow the lamb to cool slightly, then sear it on a medium BBQ until golden and lightly charred around the edges, brushing with the reserved juices as you go.

Serve shredded or sliced with plenty of pan juices.

JEWEL COUSCOUS

INGREDIENTS

Couscous

- 2 cups couscous
- 2 cups chicken or vegetable stock
- 1 tbsp extra virgin olive oil
- 1 tbsp lemon juice
- 1/2 tsp salt

Herbs

- 2 tbsp chopped coriander
- 2 tbsp chopped chives
- 2 tbsp chopped parsley

Fruit, Nuts & Jewels

- 1/3 cup dried apricots, chopped
- 1/3 cup sultanas, pomegranate arils or dried cranberries
- 1 cup roasted pumpkin or sweet potato, diced
- 2 tbsp toasted slivered

almonds

METHOD

1. Bring stock to the boil.
2. Place couscous into a heatproof bowl and pour over the hot stock.
3. Cover and leave for 10 minutes.
4. Fluff with a fork.
5. Stir through olive oil, lemon juice and salt.
6. Fold through herbs, fruit, pumpkin and almonds.

My tip? Use all the herbs and all the fruit and nuts. The combination of fresh, sweet and savoury flavours is what makes this dish sing.

SERVING SUGGESTION

Pile the couscous onto a serving platter, top generously with the lamb shawarma and spoon over plenty of the cooking juices. Scatter with extra parsley, coriander and pomegranate seeds if you have them on hand.

Then gather everyone around the table and enjoy.

RURAL AID MAY/JUNE ARTICLE

When I attend community events to be present and or to speak to people experiencing challenging times, I often heard the word 'Resilience'. Country people are so resilient. But what is the meaning of resilience?

Resilience is often described as having an ability to bounce back after a challenging situation. But Resilience is much more than that.

Resilience is not where we pretend everything is fine, resilience does not mean avoiding emotion, never struggling or being silent about how we feel. Resilience is acknowledging the emotions we are having, feel the pain and still move forward. We make a decision to be hopeful of our future even when the road ahead appears to be a very long and hard one. Experiencing hard challenging times is a part of life everyone experiences at varying levels.

Resilience is not something some of us have and others do not. Resilience when nurtured within and across our community creates a collective strength where people can grow from hard times. People are connected, valued and support each other. We can be that listening ear, offer or set up a welcoming space, be part of a volunteer group, join in a local event and or we can be that person who asks others, 'How are you going RUOK'. Resilience grows where people feel that they are valued and belong, able to use their individual strengths and abilities to assist. Belonging is powerful. When as a community we create safe respectful inclusive spaces, people are better placed to feel OK to reach out early and support each other. Disaster Recovery Hubs are great examples of this.

This does not mean that a resilient community is perfect. We do not agree with everything others do or say in our community, we are all individually different and unique. This uniqueness adds to our community makes it the place it is. Even with differences we enhance resilience when as a community we accept our differences. We agree to disagree, respect each other and acknowledge that every person matters. We don't need to live in each other's pockets, but we do our best to get along with each other.

There are times when emotions are so strong and our ability to reason and cope is challenging. These challenging times can be so strong that we withdraw into ourselves, and our thoughts become our reality. It is imperative that in these times we make ourselves vulnerable and ask for help. This takes strength. We may be feeling that we will burden others, that others don't want to hear our problems and we bottle up our emotions making the emotion stronger. Ask for help, because as part of a resilient caring community you do matter, are valued and people do care about you.
